HOME PROGRAM: Initial Tasks Assigned by Speech Pathologist

A speech pathologist has evaluated the patient or has performed an updated an assessment on the following: recent and chronic medical history, informal/formal collection of current performance, analysis of data from family/caregiver reporting, and consideration of behavioral factors/patient preferences.

The following has been recommended as an initial or updated home program:

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

This home program is for the current status of speech pathology skills. If there is a change in function, and it is of an emergency nature due to the severity -- call 911 for emergency medical services immediately. If there is a change in function not of an emergency nature, patients and families need to inform the speech pathologist of new symptoms, so that a consideration of adjusting the recommendations/home program can occur.
