HANDOUT-ABLE: Visual Aides for Fall Prevention (English/Spanish)

Patients benefit from visual cueing when it is possible to access memory aides in their living environment. This packet includes resources which can be utilized with patients who exhibit cognitive involvements and require such cueing, for safety. These signs can be posted in facilities where there are call lights available for notifying staff of the need for assistance. Patients may benefit from different versions of the messages, so seven different forms are available for clinicians to choose from.

Clinicians can opt to print each component form individually through setting preferences, as this resource includes all components in totality.

Each section of this resource has a Spanish interpretation available, following each specific form, for availability and ease in understanding.
